

OAG ARTIST OF THE MONTH; JANUARY 2021

Rosalie Courage

From a very early age I have always loved drawing and painting and have sketch books filled with a general assortment of picture, mostly in oils.

Since going to art classes about eight years ago I have learned so much about different techniques and how to actually look at objects rather than just seeing them.

I prefer to paint with acrylics now but I have dabbled a bit with watercolours – and find them quite challenging. With acrylics my painting becomes much freer and I can create textures and interesting colour combinations - and also experience the odd happy mistake.
