ODIHAM ART GROUP PROGRAMME 2021 – 2022

Saturday 4th December 2021 DEMONSTRATION SUSAN NEALE Pen & Ink & Wash

Susan was born in London and received her art training in Brighton and London where she graduated with a BA. Hons in Illustration. She was a commercial artist for over 20 years specialising in book and magazine work and later taught art and design. She has had two 'one man' shows and teaches and demonstrates for art societies and clubs all over the country and abroad. Her work is in private collections in the UK and abroad, including commissioned portraits for Queen Mary University and The Reform Club in London.

Saturday 8th January 2022 DEMONSTRATION ADEBANJI ALADE Acrylics

Adebajji is well known for his work on TV, particularly the One Show where he is a regular contributor. He is also an experienced art teacher and Vice-President of the Royal Institute of Oil Painters – and he has published a very successful book on sketching via Search Press. His work is all about people and places and he strives to bring the force and power of the sketch into every piece he embarks on. He is a strong believer in sketching and believes everything in art starts with a sketch.

Saturday 2nd July 2022 AGM followed by a DEMONSTRATION BY LEN MURRELL OIL PAINTING

OAG member Len started off in watercolours but has for some years worked exclusively in oils – far more forgiving! He works primarily in the studio using a collection of photographs and sketches, with the focus primarily on marine subjects. Much of his inspiration comes from the works of Edward Seago and David Curtis.

Saturday 20th August – Monday 22nd August 2022 with Private View on Friday evening, 19th August (provisional dates).

The 2022 exhibition will be open for three full days as well as having a Private View on Friday evening, all being well! Also we plan to once again join Hampshire Open Studios. More details nearer the date!

Updates on all forthcoming demonstrations and workshops, as well as other news and a gallery of members work can be found on the OAG website odihamartgroup.org.uk
